MESSAGES CRANE

The radio station on the island of Fernando de Noronha, about 125 miles from the eastmost point of Brazil, which had been in touch with the fliers during the early stages of the flight, reported that the last message was received at 6 o'clock last night.

At Paris the French air ministry officially announced that the acrobats had reached St. Paul's Island, a tiny speck only 50 miles from the farthest eastern point of Brazil.

The last definite word of the plane was received about 8 p. m., S. T. at Natal, 150 miles where the Compania Aero-Postale Luso-Brazili-era was in touch with the fliers.

The log of the flight follows:

DEC. 15

7:40 a. m.—Left Seattle, Spain, attempting nonstop flight to Montevideo.

10:30 a. m.—Passed Bahai, Morocco.

10:45 a. m.—Passed Cape Blanes, Morocco.

11:50 p. m.—Paris air ministry announced plane was over Rio de Janeiro.

DEC. 16

5:30 a. m.—Passed over Porto Praya, Cape Verde Islands.

6:30—Sighted by steamer south of Cape Verde Islands.

8:40 a. m.—Reported 500 miles southwest of Cape Verde Islands.

10:10 a. m.—Fliers asked weather conditions at Natal.

1:00 p. m.—Told Brazilian station expected reach coast about 8 p. m.

3:30 p. m.—French Air Ministry announced just north of St. Paul's Island, 50 miles from Brazil.

8:00 p. m.—Natal airmen postal station near plane's crash site could not make self understood.

Britons Try Non-Stop Flight to South Africa

Lincolnshire, England, Dec. 17 (AP)—A Royal Air Force motor plane, piloted by Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant J. M. J. J. today in an attempt to establish a non-stop flight record to South Africa.

The conditions were favorable. The plane was expected to reach Cape Africa before midnight Thursday.

The machine was loaded with 1000 gallons of petrol. Nothing was left to chance. The cabin was painted inside a dull color to soften the glare during the fliers' three days in it. The fliers carried sporting guns and curiously shaped knives to cut a path through the jungle, in the event of a forced landing.

Specialty prepared food which they had would enable them to exist on little weekly if necessary. The machine carried a remarkable little wireless set which during the trials recently over Northolt transmitted signals to Cairo.

Coste Sets Record of 5062 Miles on Circuit

Marseilles, France, Dec. 17 (AP)—Dieudonne Coste and his companion Paul Coste, landed at their letter aviation field today after setting a new world's record for a closed circuit flight of 5062 kilometers, or approximately 5062 miles.

The fliers were in the air for 53 hours and 34 minutes. During that period they covered a wide circuit that carried them over Avignon, Nîmes and to the Istres flying field.

The figures given out after today's flight were unofficial.

Sentence in Wine Theft Nullified

Justice Field in Supreme Court today granted a writ of error nullifying the sentence of Judge Buttrick in Superior court at Worcester imposed upon Thomas Kirk for the larceny of seven gallons of wine.

Kirk was sentenced to an indefinite term at the State Farm while he was already there serving a sentence for drunkenness.

The attorney general held that Judge Buttrick exceeded his jurisdiction in giving an indefinite sentence inasmuch as the statutes provide a penalty of not more than a year in jail in cases of larceny of less than $100.

Receivers Named for Stock Prokers

Providence, Dec. 17 (AP)—Presiding Justice Edward W. Blodgett in Superior Court today appointed Robert S. Emerson, Col. Patrick H. Quinn and R. Stanford McLeod, permanent receivers of the brokerage firm of Mandeville, Brooks & Chaffee, which was declared insolvent by receiver Nov. 15 by a voluntary judgment of the court. The firm has been acting as temporary receiver.

Emerson and Col. Quinn are lawyers and Mr. McLeod is named as an expert in corporate affairs. A bond of $100,000 was required of the receivers.

Quake Lasted More Than Four Hours, Says Toronto

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 17 (AP)—One of the longest earthquakes ever recorded at the Toronto observatory occurred this morning at 6:09:20, Eastern Standard Time. The maximum intensity was at 6:38 a. m. and the vibration was still going on when the paper was removed from the instrument at 10:15 a. m. The center of disturbance was estimated to be 400 miles from Toronto, likely of submarine origin in the vicinity of the Aleutian Islands.

Noted N. H. Forester Dies in Manchester

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 17—Lawrence F. Fox, for 70 years a resident of Manchester, died at his home, 85 Nashua st., in his 78th year. He was widely known throughout southern New Hampshire. For 47 years he was a member of Court Grant State Foresters of America.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Frank F. Fox; two daughters, Alice Brown of Northwood and Miss Mabel Fox, and eight grandchildren.

Suspect Seized in N.Y. Banquet Holdup

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—A former detective, detained and suspended because he permitted a robbery to take his revolver in a hold-up of a dinner party in honor of Magistrate Albert H. Vitale, Dec. 3, has captured a youth accused of the holdup.

The former detective, Arthur C. Johnson, trailed Joseph Barvato, 23, to a barber shop and there had him arrested. Magistrate Vitale, Johnson and several other members of the holdup identified Barvato as one of the robbers.

Lisbon Shops Close in Light Protest

Lisbon, Portugal, Dec. 17 (AP)—All shops and commercial houses except the banks were closed today in protest against the continued increase in prices by the electric light company.

The government has given up its efforts to mediate between the populace and the company because both stubbornly maintained their viewpoints, and the settlement has been left to the civil governors of Lisbon.

Navy Sub School Will Graduate 40

New London, Conn., Dec. 17 (AP)—Two lieutenants, 24 lieutenants junior grade, and 14 ensigns will be awarded diplomas at the graduation ceremony of the submarine school at the submarine base here tomorrow morning.

The class is one of the largest in the history of the school, the only one of its kind maintained by the navy. The course is for six months.

RAID CHIEF WENT TO SPAIN TO SPILL BLOOD IN ALABAMA

Independent Campaigns by Those Who Turned on Al Smith

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 17 (AP)—The state executive committee, which excluded Senator J. Thomas Heflin from the 1930 Democratic primary by barring the candidacy of those who did not support the party's presidential nominee last year, today was confronted with the prospect of combating independent campaigns by Heflin and others affected.

The senior senator from Alabama said he still would seek re-election when informed of the decision. Likewise John A. Locke, Birmingham attorney, who has announced for governor and who also was counted out of the primary by the committee ruling, said he would continue the race.

In a statement Locke described the 21 members of the committee, who were outvoted 21 to 21 in balloting on the ruling yesterday.

"I am a Democrat," Continuing, he said:

"I am a Democrat who attended the meeting of the executive committee has called a statewide meeting in Birmingham, Dec. 20.

All candidates for federal, state, district or circuit offices, who 'bolted' the presidential ticket, were excluded by the committee from the primary next August, but the matter of determining upon the qualifications of those seeking county offices was left to county committees.

The committee, however, invited all voters who believe in the principles of the Democratic party to cast their votes in the August primary; the only requirement being that they support the party's nominees in the general election.

SEES MEINAGE IN RADIO BILL

Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Morton Davis, vice-president and general attorney of the Radio Corporation of America, believes that if radio broadcasting stations are required to open their facilities to those on every side of a question, as they now are with respect to polling, radio audiences soon would be "walking out."

Continuing his testimony before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee on the Crounse bill to restrict radio broadcasting, Davis said that radio broadcasting was "more like showmanship."

"A radio audience can walk out on a quick whim," he said. "The only difference is there is no embarrassment to the broadcaster."

8 Fliers Make Ready to Hunt for Fieseler

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 17 (AP)—George Monaghan, pilot of one of the three biplanes going to Alaska on the coast guard cutter Chase to search for Carl Ben Eielson and Carl Borland, missing since November 2, was here today leaving his ship service.

Woman, Youth Sentenced in Church Thefts

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Elida Merriam, 42, and her daughter, Ingrid, 20, who were arrested with Simonds by the Concord police at the request of Concord pastor and reported as engaged to the girl. Though exonerated by Simonds, Mrs. Merriam was sentenced to an indefinite term in Sherborn reformatory in connection with the Concord thefts. Ingrid Merriam was permitted to go home, the authorities holding she knew nothing of the robberies.

FIRED TELLS OF Tired of Life

Small Retrenchment in New Haven Freight House Starts Reports

None of the railroads of New England have reimbursement plans calling for the laying off of large numbers of workers as reduction in wages.

This was assured today by local officials, following rumors that the New Haven and Boston & Maine roads had begun reducing the per diem rates to the unions and to the belief that pledges given to President Hoover were being disregarded, was the suspension of a small number of freight handlers at the South Boston terminal of the New Haven.

Special Representative Howard A. Moulton said that when at two outboard freight handlers had been consolidated.

"This change is made possible now," he continued, "on account of a reasonable decrease in the shipment of less than car load freight, and at the same time provides a better and more consistent service to the shipping public by the reduction of freight handlers at one freight house instead of two."

HARVARD GRAD IS SUICIDE

Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—Depression appeared today as the only motive for the suicide of Hunt Wentworth, Gold Coast bachelor and sportsman and son of the socially prominent Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth.

Wentworth's body, a bullet wound in the forehead, was found in his mother's Lake Shore Drive apartment, a revolver clutched in the right hand.

A grandseph of "Long John" Wentworth, mayor of Chicago in 1860, Wentworth was a Harvard graduate and was prominent in campus activities. He was editor of the Lamson and his senior year was voted the handsomest and "funniest" man in school. In the war he served as a captain of infantry with the Blackhawk regiment.

Two months ago, announcement was made of Wentworth's engagement to Miss Ellen Smith and the wedding had been tentatively set for next spring.

John Wentworth, architect, attributed his brother's suicide to "an emotional effect of his war experiences" and added his brother had become dependent since retiring from the position of secretary of the Chicago chapter of the Curtis Frying Service.

Leather Thieves Elude Business

Salem, Dec. 17—Two thieves, armed with several bunches of leather, made a getaway today after breaking into the Peter Sims leather factory in Beaver st. here.

The watchman's attention was attracted to noises in the rear of the building. He traced them to the shipping platform in the rear. There he saw two men with the bunches of leather running up the stairs. Peabody police attempted to break off the automobile in which the thieves fled, but were unsuccessful.

The police gave chase for nearly three miles, but lost the machines on the outskirts of Peabody.

Boy Kills Sister, 6, and His Brother, 3

Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 17 (IN)—Lawrence Wilbur, 18, confessed today that he had shot and killed his brother, Daniel, 3, and sister, Ella, 6, at their home in a mountain fastness a few miles from the artist colony at Woodstock, Ulster county.

The boy at first accused his father, Eugene Wilbur, 48, of committing the crime. The children were killed when they were being struck in the back by shotgun bullets.

Yale Sops Now Are 'Taken on Rides'

New Haven, Dec. 17—The most popular form of bating at Yale this year is "taking the sops on a ride." A number of luckless sops are to be blindfolded, placed one by one in automobiles and driven to various widely scattered spots by apots in rural Connecticut.

These sops are to be blindfolded to find their way back to New Haven as best they can.

Auto Tests Denied to Heady Drinkers

Laconia, N. H., Dec. 17 (AP)—Persons known to use alcohol to excess will be denied even the courtesy of a written examination for a driving license under orders received here today from the motor vehicle bureau of the state.

The orders also forbid examiners to certify applicants who are afflicted with any degree of color blindness.

REP. SAWYER SCORES STATE ART BOARD OVER WALSH PICTURE

'Dot' King's Unsolved Slaying Enmeshed in Mysterious Web of Her Blonde Chum's Tragic End

Photo diagram of how Mrs. Aurelia Dreyfus fell, leaped or was thrown from the balcony of a boat club on "Unsolved," D. C., last October. Reopening of the mystery reveals that Mrs. Dreyfus confessed on her deathbed that she had perjured herself in the investigation of the strangling of "Dot" King, Broadway "butterfly," in New York six years ago.

Edmund McBrien, New York stock and bookkeeper, who was the companion of Mrs. Dreyfus on the night she met her death. Both were together on the King murder night.

Dorothy King, Broadway favorite of wealthy philanthropists, whose "Unsolved" death New York police were preparing to reopen today. "Dot" King was an intimate of Mrs. Dreyfus. The latter's death is now being investigated.

Mrs. Aurelia Dreyfus, the blonde death victim, whose testimony together with that of her companion, McBrien, furnished the alibi that cleared Albert E. Guimaraes in the King case.

Albert E. Guimaraes, professional dancing partner and secret sweetheart of "Dot" King, as he appeared on his way to Atlanta to serve a sentence for using the mails to defraud after the death of the "butterfly." Since his release he has vanished. Guimaraes claimed that he was with Mrs. Dreyfus and McBrien at the time of the slaying.

Sawyer Hits Board in Walsh Picture Row

Accusing the State art commission of being prejudiced, Representative Roland T. Sawyer of Ware filed today in the House a resolution that would compel the Governor and Council to hang the disputed portrait of former Governor David I. Walsh.

Rep. Sawyer, a Congressional-ist minister, said the portrait, painted by Edmund D. Tarbell, is acceptable to the Legislature, and said, in commenting on his resolution:

"We are in a situation where the whims of artistic temperaments have, for thirty years, defeated the purpose of the state law and made the Commonwealth a party to injustice and wrong. The situation is intolerable. My bill will unite their hands and enable justice to be done.

"David I. Walsh was one of our most popular and capable governors. One of our few Democratic governors.

"Portraits of Gov. Fuller, Gov. McCall and other recent governors have hung in the State House for years. That of Gov. Cox is now being exhibited, and I understand that the portrait of Gov. Fuller is finished and is available. Why this injustice to former Gov. Walsh?

"Why allow the art commission to defeat the intent of the law under which the portrait of Governor Walsh would long ago have occupied its position of honor?"

"I recall very well the action of the art commission when, following the death of Governor Walsh, a memorial tablet was placed at the approach of the Hall of Flagg in honor of that fine young man, Senator Prince. The art commission introduced a resolution to place in the opposite niche a tablet in honor of Michael J. Perkins, an other fine young hero whom the world produced.

"The art commission, with grave discrepancy to the Legislature, while action was pending on the Perkins tablet, hastened to use the niche by placing therein a tablet to the honor of Mr. Endicott, a food store today. Northfield, Vt. reported two below.

"Traffic conditions in Springfield for a time today were the most harassing of the season. Rain froze as it fell, coating the streets with a thin layer of ice. Many motor vehicles abandoned their trips, advising their passengers to walk the rest of the way to their destinations. Many private autos were temporarily abandoned at street curbs, as the owners feared to continue on their journeys. The rain, which moderated in intensity, brought relief.

"An official forecast for Boston and vicinity: Cloudy with rain tonight and Wednesday; moderate change in temperature; moderate east to south winds; minimum temperature tonight will be near 34.

New York Shipping Tied Up by Big Fog

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—Harbor traffic proceeded with extreme caution today in a fog which obscured all landmarks and rendered powerful searchlights ineffective. Three liners were fog-bound, two unable to enter the harbor and one delayed in leaving.

The Anchor line Letitia from Glasgow remained outside the bay, and the Caribbean from South America remained at quarantine rather than proceed to their pier. The American line Reliance, with 300 passengers on board, was unable to start her scheduled 11:45 cruise of the West Indies on time, and other liners were delayed in docking or getting under way.

Barbara Cushing, 13, who was operated on by her father, Dr. Harvey Cushing, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, last month, has recovered so rapidly she has been released from the institution.

$100,000,000 XMAS BONUSES

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—The New York World says today that more than $100,000,000 will be distributed as Christmas bonuses in the financial district, mostly to clerks and bookkeepers in brokerage offices and banking institutions.

A survey indicates that the payments will be as large or larger than 1928, the largest on record. Despite the crash in stock values many firms will make new records for net profits in 1929.

J. P. Morgan & Co., which never reveals its bonus plans, but is reported to have paid a year's salary as bonuses for the last several years, was reported as likely to follow the same policy this year.

HELPLESS SHIP IS SAVED

Falmouth, Eng., Dec. 17 (AP)—After fighting helplessly for many days, the steamer Jamaica Sittler, with passengers aboard, was towed into port by three tug boats today.

The ship, a British vessel of 466 tons, left London November 18 for Kingston, Jamaica, and had been nearly a month at sea.

The ship's radio was damaged by stormy weather and she was left helpless. Her S. O. S. brought a Dutch tug from Newfoundland, the captain of the Jamaica Sittler meanwhile managing to keep the ship's head to the wind.

But the sea grew heavier and when the tug arrived the steamer's position was perilous. No sooner had the hawsers been gotten aboard than they snapped, and the tug was driven many miles away before heavy winds.

Last Saturday the hurricane tossed the rudderless steamer about like a cork and damaged her. A second tug came to help the first, but the two could make little headway until a third had arrived.

$500,000,000 Steel Merger Is Coming

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—The New York Times says plans for the merger of independent steel companies of the Middle West, which it is expected an organization of $500,000,000 will be announced within a few days.

The merger, the Times will say, is being sponsored by the Easton-McBrien financial interests, headed by Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland. The company expected to be merged are the Republic Iron & Steel, the Commercial Iron & Tube, the Otto Steel, the McKinney Steel, the Central Alloy Steel and the Inland Steel.

WIN FIGHT FOR CITY JOBS

Springfield, Dec. 17 (AP)—The findings of fact filed by an auditor in the Supreme Judicial Court today, it is set forth that Carol Chapman, a war veteran, and James J. Harper, residents of Springfield, were qualified as mechanics but although they applied for work were not employed by the Fraser-Detroit Construction Company of St. Louis on the Springfield water works project in Springfield.

The city water commission had notice that they applied for work were not employed by the Fraser-Detroit Construction Company of St. Louis on the Springfield water works project in Springfield.

The auditor finds that of 16 men employed as mechanics only six were in Massachusetts, three of them in Springfield, and one was a citizen of Nova Scotia.

Mum About Liquor, Boy Sent to Jail

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 17 (AP)—After Abeline, Blaine, Vt., pleaded guilty in City Court to a charge of intoxication, Judge F. L. Laird refused to accept the disclosure he gave and sent him back to jail until such time as he is prepared to tell a more reasonable story.

Blaine claimed that the liquor upon which he became intoxicated was given to him by three youths whose names he did not know, though he had been acquainted with two of them previously.

Arnold's Wife Scored in Divorce Suit

New York, Dec. 17 (INS)—Mrs. Irene E. Arnold was subjected to a scathing attack today when Herman J. Witte, counsel for Ray H. Arnold, millionaire real estate man of Warrington and Los Angeles, summed up his case to the jury sitting in the divorce trial and asked for a complete vindication of his client and Mrs. Margaret Crenshaw West, named as co-respondent.

"Mrs. Arnold, like a great many people in the world," Witte declared, "got tired of her husband and wanted a divorce so she could have free strings to enjoy her luxuries."

Witte also launched a bitter denunciation of Arnold's son, William, who supported his mother in the domestic warfare and testified in her behalf in the early days of the trial.

"There never was such an instance of a son speaking against his father with such venom as William Arnold did," Witte said. "He branded his father as a libertine, as a drunkard and even branded his father as a drunkard."

Witte assailed the naming of Martha Crenshaw, 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. West, as a co-respondent, terming the action absurd.

Witte declared the stigma of this charge would remain with her for the rest of her life, even though she was exonerated in open court when counsel for Mrs. Arnold refused to press the charge against her any further.

"That's making the man pay the penalty," Mr. Arnold, Witte told the jury.

At this period, Mrs. Arnold, who was attired in black and sat facing the jury, began to sob.

Witte pointed out that Mrs. West was living in "virtually a shack," a little house in Greenwood.

"She was supported to be Arnold's mistress. Is that the way a man would keep his mistress? The woman he is supposed to have loved in a shack?" the attorney asked.

TO START 'DOT' KING PROBE

New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—Police Commissioner Whelan and District Attorney Eaton were waiting information from Washington today to guide them in reopening the Dot King murder mystery.

When Mrs. Aurelia Dreyfus died, the Washington authorities, informed as there was considerable jewelry found and asked if it belonged to any of Dot King's relatives.

"We notified them after inquiry that no claim had been made and we asked if any evidence linking the death of Mr. Dreyfus and Dot King was found to notify us at once. Since then, we have heard nothing from the Washington authorities."

READY TO PROSECUTE Dot-Atty. Eaton stated his chief assistant, Ferdinand Pecora, directed the inquiry into Dot King's murder. Pecora said:

"I will be glad to go ahead on any investigation, from the fact, I remember, I did not question Mrs. Dreyfus in that case. I talked to several members of her family and to Mr. Dreyfus himself. But not to anyone named Dreyfus. Mr. Fisher, who was the Washington Bureau's name before."

In earlier dispatches, relatives of Mrs. Dreyfus, who was killed by a fall from a balcony at a party at the Baltimore Hotel, were reported to have said the committed inquiry when questioned in the Dot King case six months ago. Questioned by the police in the King case were Edmund J. McBrien, a stock broker, and Albert Guimaraes, a salesman.

McBrien was Mrs. Dreyfus' companion on the night of her death and he was questioned concerning that mystery also.

McBrien's role in the inquiry into Dot King's death consisted of supplying the alibi which convinced the police of Guimaraes' innocence.

MYSTERY BLONDE At that time, there was reference to a mysterious blonde who supported the Guimaraes and McBrien statement. Mrs. Dreyfus is alleged to have been the blonde.

Guimaraes was subsequently indicted for fraudulent use of the mails in connection with the Atlanta case. He was released in 1926, the first time known where he is at present.

England Tightens Movie Censorship London, Dec. 17 (AP)—The London film censorship board today tightened up its regulations to keep children away from the cinema and to prevent them from seeing immoral and obscene films.

The board recommended that children under 16, unless accompanied by parent or guardian, be not allowed to see certain classes of films. A warning notice will be placed on the screen before such pictures begin, and the children in the first row must leave, if not accompanied.

Heflin Renews Cotton Attack Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—The question "What certain forces" were behind the New York City cotton market and had sought to produce a panic, was renewed today by Senator Heflin (Dem., Ala.), at a hearing on speculative activities of the New York, Chicago and Kansas cotton exchange.

Clubwomen to Hold Prize Essay Test

THE General Federation of Women's Clubs has endorsed "The Right of Leisure" as the topic for the cash prize essay contest.

A committee of five of the federation executive will make final awards and the winning essay will be read at the annual convention in Denver in June.

Conducted by the committee on recreation and the right of leisure and the chairman of public culture and the chairman of community service, the contest is open to all clubwomen of the general federation. Fifty essays are to be received. The prize is the first award, $25; the second, $10; the third, $5; the fourth, $2.50.

Ever since the idea of "right of leisure" was instituted by John Sherman, former general federation president, and now chairman of the American home department, clubwomen throughout the country have taken it as a subject for literary expression and collected speakers from near and far to talk on it.

That leisure time profitably spent is a potent factor in the continued progress of civilization, the clubwomen have maintained. To this end programs have been suggested and ways and means of self-cultivation and the improvement of the individual by the department. In the ultimate hope that women groups throughout the world would personally and upon themselves to discard idleness and to spend their leisure time profitably.

It was agreed that the American public had too much leisure time and didn't know what to do with it, to have leisure be of any benefit. To spend it without aim or purpose or without interest benefit to the individual, was considered a crime.

Since the desire these days to get the nation's clubwomen thinking along the lines of the right of leisure, so much so, that women will pen their thoughts and opinions in a contest.

Among the rules of the contest, I find the definition of leisure given as the basis of the essay writing. "Leisure is to be defined as that time which is free from necessary occupation (as by the right of leisure, so much so, that women will pen their thoughts and opinions in a contest).

WOMEN MUSICIANS' ASSOCIATION
Mrs. Caroline B. Nichols, conductor of the ladies' orchestra, "The Ladies' Orchestra," will lead the singing of Christmas carols at the Friday night at 8 p. m. in the League House, Arlington st.

A brass ensemble will also play carols with the president, Mrs. Paul Harvey Knapp, guest artist. Miss Elizabeth Scholz, pianist, and winner of the Endicott prize in composition, will play some of her own studies and accompany Ruth Austin, violinist, in a group of solos. Mrs. Mildred Merrill is to be the presiding hostess.

Mrs. Knight, writing of the splendid program, says she is "very busy with my Kitty Knox and my program through New Year's Day."

The club of the State Federation and a fine source of talent from which the individual clubs ought to draw for their programs.

BOSTON ROOMING HOUSE ASSOCIATION
Five needy families of the South East will find good cheer in Christmas this year, thanks to the assistance of this association, a noteworthy institution founded eleven years ago by Mrs. Robert A. Woods for the improvement of rooming house conditions.

At the Christmas party, Wednesday night at 8 p. m., at Union Park, presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Snyder, the annual meeting will be enjoyed, marked by a musical program and specially invited guests. I hastened to announce myself, but Mrs. Glenn Gibbs, treasurer of the association, elicited a promise from me that I would announce through the press that I, too, would be among the guests that Wednesday night.

The association this year is to care for five needy families in addition to the usual donations made to the Home for Destitute Children and the Day Nursery and other sources interested in spreading Christmas cheer.

Two hundred women, each one in the rooming house business, are members of this most unusual association, the only one of its kind in the country. Mrs. Gibbs informed me that the association is to care for five needy families in addition to the usual donations made to the Home for Destitute Children and the Day Nursery and other sources interested in spreading Christmas cheer.

MEXICO CLOSES CONSULATE AT LAREDO

Mexico City, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Mexican government today struck back at Laredo, Texas border city, for the attitude taken by John Valle, district attorney there, toward Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican president.

The foreign office announced that, effective today, the Mexican consulate at Laredo would be closed. The Department of Interior announced that permission granted the Laredo Chamber of Commerce to issue tourist cards for entry into Mexico would be rescinded.

Closing of the consulate meant that merchandise entering Mexico through Laredo must be approved by the consulate at some other place, possibly Corpus Christi, San Antonio or Houston. Similarly tourists would have to seek entry in at some other city.

Mrs. Valle, for many years prosecutor of the city, had been in Laredo, Calles and the late Gen. Obregon, a former Mexican president, were reported to be in the city.

He threatened that if Gen. Calles ever passed through Laredo he would arrest him and try him on the charge. It was understood here that Calles crossed into Mexico through Laredo only because he had diplomatic immunity. Calles is returning from a European trip that he took for his health.

Rum Law Violations Aided by Officials

Coeur d'Alene, Ida., Dec. 17 (AP)—The Federal Government in court here today, was well under way in its attempt to prove that 28 North Idaho officials and others had participated in a widespread conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws.

Attacking first the case at St. Paul, in which the mayor and many trustees were indicted, the United States attorney, who will appear before the court here today, charged that the city officials of St. Paul conspired to violate the national prohibition laws.

CANADA SEEKS 'FAIR RETURN' ON PAPER

Montreal, Dec. 17 (AP).—L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, in an address declared the governments of Ontario and Quebec would not be satisfied until paper manufacturers of the two provinces receive a "fair return" on newspaper paper.

He said both the governments of Ontario and Quebec have come to the conclusion that $60 a ton is a fair price, which is an increase of $5 a ton over the present price, and that he had been assured by some United States consumers that it is not excessive.

MUST GET FAIR PRICE.
Speaking at a meeting under the auspices of the Laurier Historical Club in honor of P. J. A. O'Brien, minister of marine and fisheries, he said neither provincial government would take any legislative action to fix the price of newspaper paper, but that both governments were determined that a fair return should be received.

"Today Canada is producing 600 million newspapers, and we are the continent, although two years ago we produced less than half of it," he said. "In the United States they cannot compete with us at the present time, and the situation is becoming more difficult with them every day."

ATTENT TO DICTATE.
"We have invited American capital to come here and we have done well. The result has been wonderful development, such as that at Lake St. John where $100,000,000 has been invested and on the St. Lawrence river, where one-third of Canada's output of paper is produced."

"We find today that American manufacturers of paper here wish to dictate the price at which paper is sold. We are told that they are selling their paper at $55 a ton, thus forcing a price which they wanted accepted by our Canadian manufacturers."

"I have no hesitation in saying that no one in the United States—and they are fair-minded men in the United States—should expect our manufacturers to sell paper at cost price. Both the governments of Ontario and Quebec have come to the conclusion that $60 a ton is a fair price."

52 Bulgarian Reds Get 30 Years Terms

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 17 (AP).—The trial of fifty-two Bulgarian communists ended today with the passing of sentences totalling 320 years in all.

The three principal prisoners, Stoyanoff, Kiselevitch and Panov, each received 15 years in jail. Thirty-five defendants were sentenced to terms ranging from 15 months to 12½ years.

"Seers" in Gem Robbery
Beverly Hills, Cal., Dec. 17 (AP).—Mrs. O. M. Branch, a wealthy widow, reported to the police yesterday that she had been robbed of jewelry worth $35,000 while two women were telling her fortune in a darkened room.

FASHION CLUB TO PROTECT U. S. WOMEN

New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—The fashion league, devised to protect American women from unbecoming fashions and growing out of the controversy over the long skirt, has been organized by 12 society women.

These 12, with 10 others to be invited to membership, will form the board of directors of an auxiliary organization to be known as the "Fashion of the Month Club."

This club will publish a magazine bearing its name in which women will be informed of the best and newest modes as determined by the group of 20.

Mrs. E. Gordon Hammett was elected president of the league; Mrs. Vanderbilt Church and Mrs. Willis Gammell Mitchell were named vice-presidents and Mrs. Tiffany Sargent treasurer.

The hope of the league is to get into the members into the "Fashion of the Month Club," which will function as some of the book club.

Pola and Prince Are Happy Again

Paris, Dec. 17 (AP).—Pola Negri, American movie star, has decided Friday 13 is her lucky day.

We were separated eight months, but never separated in our hearts," she said today regarding her reconciliation with her husband, Prince Serge Mdivani of Russia.

"We realized we couldn't get along without each other when we met in a divorce reconciliation court Friday the 13th. I am not superstitious, but it was a lucky day for both of us. My husband decided to let me follow my career."

A Sensation in Coffee Prices

New, low, regular coffee prices save A&P's customers more than $100,000 weekly!

When the prices of coffee at wholesale tumbled, A&P led the way to drastic reductions at retail.

Now... A&P's new, low, regular coffee prices are even lower than sale prices. Thousands have seized this rare opportunity to save money and those who tried A&P's coffees for the first time are utterly amazed that coffee of such quality can be sold so cheaply.

You have double assurance of the quality of A&P coffee. First, because all A&P coffee comes from the best producing sections of the world's greatest coffee-growing countries—Colombia and Brazil. Second, because this coffee is the cream of the crop, selected and bought by A&P's own buyers in South America. This tremendous quality advantage is enjoyed by no other food stores.

And A&P goes to great lengths to safeguard the freshness of its coffees. From nearby roasters, A&P Food Stores receive frequent deliveries of coffee in small quantities. And because more people buy their coffee at A&P Food Stores than at any other stores, A&P's coffee sells so rapidly that when you get it, it is bound to have that delightful fragrance and flavor that only oven-fresh coffee can have.

AIR STUDENTS TO GET WINGS AT HARTFORD

By GEORGE HANLIN

Although the Boston Airport is equipped with night flying lights, the advanced Curtiss-Wright students, those taking the transport course, are being transferred to Brainerd Field, Hartford, for their wind-up course, including night flying, tri-motor time and advanced aerobatics.

According to Harry Copland, manager of the Boston station for the group, the boys will be able to get their finishing touches at the Hartford field with much more ease than they would here. Also Brainerd Field is expected to be approved soon by the Department of Commerce as a night flying airport, a stage that our own airport has not yet reached.

Sanford Chandler, one of the instructors who has been putting the boys through their paces here in Boston, has been transferred to Hartford to be in charge of all student work. Albert Burnham, the youngest active transport pilot in New England, will come to Boston, swapping places with Chandler.

The problem of how to wind up these transport students who have reached the stage where they are ready for the fine points of night flying, and flying blind, along with a little time in the big Tim Greer, has been worrying R. G. "Gil" Evin, general manager for C.W. in New England, not a little "gilt" after many weary hours of brainwork, finally came upon the idea of shifting them all down to Brainerd, and letting Chandler take charge of them.

This whole business of purveying flying training becomes more and more complicated each day. To prove that statement, notice the two new gray hairs in "Gil's" head, and the wrinkles in the pleasing visage of Harry Dewey Copland.

When a half-hour soloist comes along and nonchalantly sets his airplane down in a street after the motor has gone sour, without a bit of harm to himself, and only a little to the ship, we are ready to stand by and cheer.

This half-hour soloist is L. C. Wharton, student with Curtiss-Wright at the airport. He was flying a Fiedling all by himself, when he began to hear strange things in the "engine room."

Wonderment as to what the strange noise could be, and a half an idea that he could straighten it all out by means of the choke, kept him flying along in the general direction of Newfoundland.

Finally, about over Manchester, the motor quit.

Here was Wharton, with a little better than 30 minutes actual solo time, sitting a couple of thousand feet in the air, and no motor.

Quick peek over the side, and nothing below but trees.

To make a long story longer, he turned around, with half an idea that a beach would be so bad, and trying to find out where the Boston Airport was.

Then, nothing to do but set her down in a road, on the outskirts of Manchester. This Wharton promptly did, without any damage to himself, and very little to his ship.

Not such a bad stunt for one so young in flying years, hey?

Rob Bernson, amiable manager of Beverly Airport, paid us a short visit, and introduced M. L. Reproft, of Winchester, who was a navy flier during the war. Reproft has been bitten by the flying bug again, and learned, after a short conference with Federal Inspector Jack Morgan, that all he needed was five more hours of solo flying and he could apply for his transport ticket.

Bernson whispered that Reproft hadn't touched an airplane's controls for 10 years until the other day, and 30 minutes of flying an Arrow Sport, under the guidance of Kyle "Slim" Halstead, were sufficient to bring back the old touch.

Halstead piled up 10 hours during the week-end, giving his students of night fliers, "Slim" was a bit tired. Why shouldn't he be, after 600 minutes of telling students what to do?

Walter Rogers, head of the company which bears his name, and Gus Ham, chief pilot for the And Associates, have several things on their minds which seem to keep them busy.

Rogers is waiting for the word that a new Davis D-1 is ready, in order to start the secretly married Ham on his way out to the factory in Richmond, Ind., to take delivery.

There are a number of other things that Rogers is thinking about, and all the while, Ham keeps on giving flying instructions and demonstrations.

The more advanced students of Skyways, Inc. are being checked out in the Bellanca cabin monoplane by Charlie Emerson, chief instructor. The first two were Charlie Parker and Ken Hathaway.

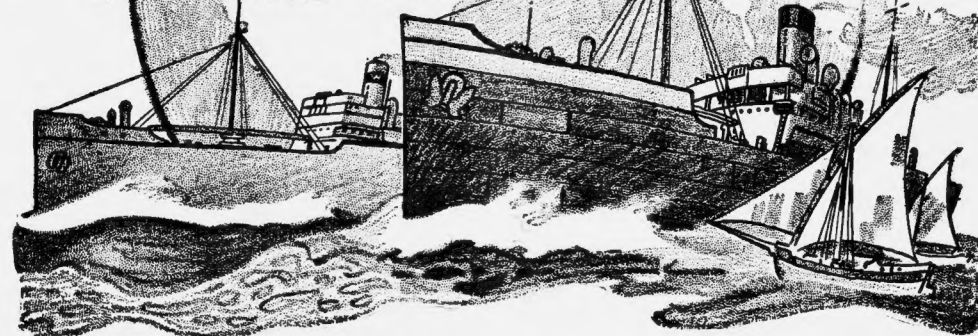

Drought Closes N. H. Paper Mill
Franklin, N. H., Dec. 17.—The International Paper Company mill here was forced to close because of low water in the Winnepesaukee river.

The section of New Hampshire baraboute has been experiencing the most prolonged drought in the history of the weather bureau. Since June 1 little more than nine inches of rain has fallen.

SCAR MAN HELD IN SLAYING

London, Dec. 17 (AP)—William Henry Palmer, "the man with the scar," today was formally charged with the murder of Victor Starnitz, Southampton, Canada, proprietor and one-time member of the United States in October, 1919. The defendant had been serving a sentence for the theft of a motor car and his arrest was made under dramatic circumstances as he was having the full on the expiration of his sentence.

Palmer appeared at the Assize court after the killing which attracted wide attention in England because of the many motives which were said to have been in the mind of the defendant. He was charged with the murder of Starnitz, who was a member of the United States in October, 1919. The defendant had been serving a sentence for the theft of a motor car and his arrest was made under dramatic circumstances as he was having the full on the expiration of his sentence.

a week from my father, but I don't go very far when you have to buy food and clothing. I am not quite old enough to go to work as yet, as I have to go to school until I am 15. My mother needs some dress, size 40. She would be thankful for either food, coal or clothing. I will thank you for anything that you can send.

Maiden.

TWO BOYS IN NEED

Dear Editor: I take the liberty of writing to you to ask if you have anything to spare for us this Christmas. My husband is suffering with asthma and can't work at all. I have two boys, 8 and 12 years. Anything you may be able to send them will be very much appreciated.

MRS. C. Lowell.

Dear Goodfellow Editor: I am writing for my two grandchildren. Their father is still in the hospital and has been sick since September, 1927. I am not able to work and their mother is not well. She fell down stairs and hurt her leg. There is Alvin who is 1 year and a half, and Louis, 2. I hope you won't forget them as they need underwear and stockings.

East Boston. Mrs. M. Dear Goodfellow Editor: I am four years old and only my mamma works to help pay her board and mine. She only makes $5 or $6 a week, and she makes all my clothes. I have no father and my mother works hard to keep us together. Could you please help me and tell Santa to send me some presents?

Norwich, Conn. Alfred.

Dear Goodfellow Editor: I thought I would write you to see if you could help us for Christmas. I have two brothers, one 8 and one 4. I am 10 years old. We are very poor and won't have a happy Christmas unless someone helps us. Please don't forget us.

Taunton. ARTHUR.

CRIPPLED BY AUTO

Dear Goodfellow Editor: My father has not been working for a long time. We need clothes very badly. Four years ago I got run over by an automobile and I am still crippled. I am fourteen years old and need gloves to keep my hands warm. Please try and make this Christmas happy.

J. P. Haverhill.

Other cases are as follows: CASE 1. Mrs. K. of Malden, would be very thankful for any kind of clothing some Goodfellow could give her for her children. She has a girl 8 yrs. old and a baby four months, and her husband has been out of work for a long time.

CASE 2. Widow with a little boy, 5, and a girl, 4, appeals to the Goodfellow Editor for warm clothing for her youngsters.

CASE 3. Joseph wants a warm coat for his mother and any kind of clothing for his sister, 8, and himself. He is 13 yrs. His father is dead and his mother has to go out to work in all kinds of weather to support him and his sister.

CASE 4. Two boys, 12 years and 10, and a girl 10, just lost their father and will have a very unhappy Christmas unless some Goodfellow comes to their assistance. Their mother is trying her best to work to keep the little group together.

CASE 5. Little boy in Chelsea wishes a Goodfellow would help his mother and father a bit. He is 12 years old, and his younger brother three years old has to go to a hospital for an operation. They are very poor and haven't even enough to eat.

If you want to be a GOODFELLOW, telephone Liberty 4000 or call at 8 Wadsworth sq., Boston. Let us tell you of some worthy cases in your neighborhood so that you may call upon the family yourself.

OAKLAND MEN PREDICT GOOD BUSINESS

The coming year will be a good business year, according to predictions expressed today at a meeting in the Capitol Plaza attended by the Oakland business leaders in the Boston area and factory officials.

Frank C. Miller, vice president of the meeting, which was presided over by W. H. Tracy, vice president of the chamber of commerce, and J. H. O'Connell, assistant secretary, manager, First National Bank.

In discussing the business outlook for 1930, President Tracy said: "We have every reason to believe that 1930 will be a good year for business. Business authorities are optimistic that general conditions are sound, business and agriculture are in a favorable position and there is no reason to look for depression. We are not making any rash predictions regarding business in 1930, but we are confident that the outlook is bright and we are confident that the outlook is bright and we are confident that the outlook is bright."

Oil Ban on Public Domain Protested

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 17 (AP)—Charging that the Department of Interior ruling of March 12, which prevents oil and gas prospecting on the public domain, is unjust and discriminatory, the Mountain States Permits Association has forwarded a resolution to Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur, asking that the order be rescinded.

The order, the resolution said, has stopped expenditures of $30,000 which had been provided for prospecting in the mountain states. This curb on activity, the resolution added, is particularly objectionable in view of President Hoover's campaign to speed up industry.

30 SENATORS TO FACE COURT ISSUE

Washington, Dec. 17—Some thirty-odd senatorial candidates for re-election have awakened with a shock to find the permanent court of international justice of the League of Nations an active and vital issue in the coming campaign.

This issue was stirred by former Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, who denounced the Root formula to take the United States into the League Court in his "The 101st Letter to Senator Borah of Idaho" relation of the foreign relations committee.

The issue created interest particularly in the case of Senator Charles E. Dwyer of Illinois, who comes up for re-nomination in the April primary in his state. It was heightened by the announcement that the new "big three" in Cook County Republican politics have turned thumbs down on the League Court.

This is accepted in senatorial circles as meaning that former Attorney General J. Brandegee, Charles V. Barrett of the board of review and Herbert W. Howe, municipal bailiff, will oppose Dwyer and support Rep. Ralph Hannan, McCormack, who is opposed to the court.

In view of the fact that the late Senator William B. McKinley of Illinois was defeated for re-nomination by Frank L. Smith in 1928 on the so-called World Court issue, the pronouncement of the "big three" in Cook County presages a desperate fight ahead of Dwyer, who voted for the court when it was before the Senate.

The Pepper "101st Letter" served to bring the issue of the League Court squarely before the Senate and caused former pro-court senators to put their ears to the ground. For the issue has been sleeping, blanketed by the tariff fight.

Even the anti-League of Nations and anti-League Court senators have been slow to comment on the formula cooked up by Ethel Root and Sir Cecil Hurst to get the United States into the court and eventually into the League of Nations because they have been interested in the tariff battle.

But the shot fired by Pepper is sure to drive senators into one camp or another. They must declare themselves for or against the League Court and in so doing they will be slow to take a position which will bring down upon their heads the anti-League sentiment of the country.

Up until now, senators have refrained from going into the question to show the League of Nations overlordship of the League Court and the misleading arguments advanced in the attempt to show the so-called World Court is independent of the league.

12 MORE DEATHS LAID TO COP KILLER

Chicago, Dec. 17 (AP)—The law peered today into the known haunts of Chicago's gangsters and hoodlums as the search for Fred Burke, reputed killer, hit and bad man, centered in this metropolis area.

Burke, alias Frederick Dane, fatally wounded policeman Charles Skelly, in St. Joseph, Mo., last Saturday night, but the police of many cities charge him with at least 12 other murders and numerous bank robberies.

Chicago police are certain it was Burke and Gus Winkler who disguised themselves as policemen and lined-up the seven Moran gangsters against the death wall in the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

The Herald and Examiner said today it had been revealed that the two men were in the pay of "Scarface" Al Capone, gangster overlord rival of George "Bugs" Moran.

$100,000 IN REWARDS

In fact, Burke is wanted for so many things that reward for his capture now total $100,000.

The woman who lived with Burke as his wife in the front home in St. Joseph was revealed last night by police. Mrs. Virginia Kunkle, 30, was married to Burke, 30, ago and met Burke at that time said to be a lieutenant in the Capone gang.

They went to Hammond, Ind., to live, police here learned. They lived there at the time of the St. Valentine's day massacre, under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark.

When questioned as to Burke's alleged part in the Moran massacre, Mrs. Kunkle said:

"He left the apartment at 7 o'clock that morning and I could have had anything to do with the massacre because he got back before noon."

DECK "WIFE'S" ALIBI

The Moran men were killed at 10 o'clock—later, police regard highly by her attempts at an alibi.

Burke's reward for his crime was first picked up in Detroit—then to Chicago and the Capone gang. Since then he is said to have been the leader of a bank robbing gang in Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin and other states.

The strand found in the Burke home in St. Joseph—where he posed as a gentleman of means— is being shipped to Maj. Goddard, the Federal expert of the massacre investigation. Should the intricate characteristics prove the same in his study, the Chicago police will be convinced Burke is the killer of the Moran men.

Burke Jumped Bail in Louisville Bank Holdup

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 17 (AP)—Fred R. Burke, gangster-killer sought by St. Joseph, Mo., police, jumped $150,000 bail here on May 22, 1925, on a charge of participation in the holdup of the Portland bank, on April 3, 1925.

The bandits, armed with automatics, shot and wounded a customer, the cashier Fred L. Kingman, at a holdup of a photograph of Burke as seen in his hands, and he was taken to the hospital here at St. Joseph.

Kansas City in 10th Day of Heavy Fog

BARNE'S RAP FARM BOARD AT LOBBY PROBE

Washington, Dec. 17 (AP)—Julius Barnes, chairman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and grain exporter, testified today before the Senate that the Board of Farm Activities of the farm board were active to overthrow the production of wheat.

Barnes said he was sorry that farm board policies had to be discussed because "business was willing to give the board a chance to be started."

He said he objected at a conference with Chairman Legge of the farm board to the board's plan of loaning money to wheat co-operators at the current grain price with the understanding that the producers were to share in any subsequent increases.

Barnes was called by the lobby committee after reports that he had protested the board's grain policy to President Hoover. This was subsequently denied at the White House and today Barnes testified that he had never discussed the board with Hoover.

As a result, he testified, the board announced a policy under which loans would be extended to local co-operators at the same rates as to farm co-operators members.

Equal Pay for Women Teachers

Editor Boston American:

Dr. James R. McQuisley of Teachers College, Columbia University, is very far in his statement that no sound education is possible without equal pay for men and women teachers. Higher wages than women. Men do not bring teachers. They do not render more valuable service. They have more dependents but this is not a sound argument for paying them higher salaries."

This is in contrast to what Professor Rogers of Teachers College has been saying about women teachers. A person would be dealing with the issue of teachers' salaries as well as the importance of this subject."

On Seeing Heaven and Reaching It

Editor Boston American:

Some people are always complaining about the cost of religion and the churches. Have these same persons ever thought of the cost of science? Let them put their eyes here.

It will cost more than $250,000 to complete and equip the world's largest astronomical observatory in San Diego, Calif. California. There will be a 200-inch reflector, weighing 10 tons. This will take several years to build. This exceeds the present largest reflector, which weighs 40 tons.

If science is spending so much money for looking at heaven, why not spend an equal sum of money to get there. Don't be grudge money to the church."

OFFICER TELLS OF STRIKE SLAYINGS

Huntsville, N. C., Dec. 17 (AP)—Huntsville L. Robbins, middle-aged constable of Marion Township and one of eight deputy sheriffs on trial here charged with second degree murder of six men during a riot on October 2, gave his version of the slayings today.

Robbins said about 75 per cent of the crowd of 500 men gathered on the morning of October 2, 1928, were armed. He said that he and his fellow constables tried to stand back. Some one in the crowd, Robbins testified, "let me go home and get my gun and shoot it out with them."

Somebody else said, "We don't have to get our guns, we've got 'em here."

Soon after tear gas was released by the officers, Robbins related, he and the shooting began then.

"Shots came from the crowd. I saw one man, W. G. Hall, brother of Randolph Hall, shooting directly at me. I drew my gun and fired twice at him," Robbins said.

James Jones, Samuel Vickers, James Roberts, Thilen Carver and Luther Byrnes received fatal gunshot wounds in the fight.

200 Rescued as Ship Grounds on Reef

Wellington, N. Z., Dec. 17—Two hundred passengers and crew were landed safely when the steamship Manuka 4334 tons, was wrecked on reef today at Long Point, between Hutt and Dunedin. The cargo, including a collection of British pictures valued at $125,000, apparently was lost. The ship was bound from Melbourne to Wellington.

CHAPTER 35
[HEY meant to kill her; hurl her over this sheer, frightening precipice.

Palsied with the stark image of herself being rushed to the edge of the plateau, being flung, being flung into the mad dawn, Pat sat before the little nave and lifted bacon from a pan.

Her small companion ate applied. He was going home after breakfast. Yes, he was! Wouldn't she take him?
What's the name of these oaks? Why did we come here?

Pat sat numb in a wild irresponsible hour. She now—quickly—before they dreamed she suspected—she saw—somewhere. Why did they need to murder her?

Her youth—her storming love of life rose in a fury of resistance.
Remain here and this; be washed to an untimely death?
She would NOT.

The figure on the slope. As far as she could see the plateau was barren—a vast nude table-mountain stretching between mighty perpendicular gorges.

Pat, above them, oh, thousands of feet, and shuddering them remained. She had the faint of the gigantic, awe-inspiring canyon walls. The morning was flaming over the sheer, titanic walls lovely tinted of lavender, of gold and resplendent blue.

It revealed sublime sculptured monuments, pyramids and steep cliffs. Pat could have wept seeing all these lovely forms. The sunlight and softness, but intensely terrific. How unbelievable be the thing here in this bleak compromising isolation. In the power of distance.

The pilot was leaving. Going to ind that path out. Then they saw a car, a machine, and through with their feet. They would take Billy with them. They would take the child from Pat, and she as she screamed in protest.
She saw her over the cliff.

They didn't look like murderers. This pilot whom the last thin one the other called "Ace" whom have passed anywhere as a captivating fellow. He had thick black hair that went in a wave over a white forehead. He was large, soft brown eyes. Only the mouth was a little cruel.

The little cruel, made one un-nearly. The other man, Tom, was somewhat repellent—hard, cold grey eyes, but cold, unsmiling. He led strangely. Pat feared him the less he would be ruthless—he it was who pointed to the chain worn that "Easy shows her over—won't ever know." And he could do it.
Yet she was glad it was he in whose company she was now left alone.

She took the little boy's hand and walked toward a rock ledge.
He pulled back. He didn't want to be here. I don't like it. You said you'd take me home.

Pat looked into his dark, wistful eyes. "Why are you looking like that?
If you won't take me home, will you let me stay here?"
She thought with pitiful trembling: "What will you do with him? God—don't let him find any path!"

But if he returned this evening with news of a trail leading out this evening—she must be ready—would be her last.
She stepped up on the ledge and looked down. Far, far below she saw herself working.

She thought they could do it if she didn't let her know that there was a farm down there with a door of the escape. And a white house with a red roof distant, separated by a whole series of lower hills. Ted there must be a way to reach it by someone who was drawing his breath with laborious effort and by someone who had walked down there to the edge.
And here he was—had seen a gully with a stream, and underbrush.

She would wander down pretended that she went for a walk.
As if grey dark she would hide away. All night long she would run through the wilderness as she would escape! And Billy would be with her.

She watched the man who was

FIRE
ALLSTON

Apartment House Owners,
Awakened by the Blaze,
Rouse 12 Families

Twelve families were driven to the street and damage to the extent of $2000 was caused by fire in a three-story brick apartment house on Summit ave., Allston, today.

According to the police, the fire broke out in an unoccupied suite it gained headway rapidly and but for quick action by some of the occupants might have had tragic results.

Abram Herman and his wife, Frieda, who police say are the owners, were awakened by the crackling of the flames in their suite and immediately aroused other occupants of the building.

Armed Christiansen and Carol
B. Elliott, other occupants, rushed about the various floors arousing sleeping tenants.

General excitement prevailed and all 12 families were forced to flee to Summit ave. in their night clothing.

Sale of City Land to Hospital Blocked

350 square feet of land on top of Parker hill to the Robert, Brock and the city's 300
Birmingham Hospital for $34,800 was defeated by the City Council by a vote of 11 to 9, a motion for recommendation was adopted and the Council agreed to bring the matter up for further debate next Monday.

Opposition to the proposed sale was led by Councilman Ward of Rosbury, who protested that the city paid more than $100,000 for the land, and insisted that the land should not be given away for a nominal fee, claiming that the hospital is "not conforming with the will of the late Mr. Brigham in caring for the poor who are suffering from chronic disease."

Date With Girl Gets
Youth in Concord

Joseph Berdett 19, had a date with a girl. He wanted to look nice, so he stole some clothing from relatives.
He took his father's automobile from his home, 48 Lawton ave., Lynn. He kept the date and returned the car stolen. A policeman spotted it and refused to let a policeman take it.

At midnight he tried to hang himself with a sash in his cell.
Guard found him lying unconscious on the floor. The tie had broken.

He was revived today by Lynn Court. Judge Reese
Court found him guilty of larceny of the clothing taken from his relatives, on 10 and sent him to Concord Reformatory.

But he looked up when he met his girl.

Even His Thoughts Are "Arrested"

FULLER'S GAS
RATE WITNESS
ELIMINATED

Labored Under a "False Assumption" as to Value of Testimony, Says Attwill

Former Governor Fuller today was eliminated from the hearing before the Public Utilities Commission looking to a reduction of location Consolidated Gas Co. rates.

In spite of protests by Atty. Wm.
C. Marshall, representing customers, Asst. Corp. Counsel Samuel Silverman and Chairman Henry C.
Atwill of the commission agreed the former governor was laboring under a "false assumption" as to facts and that his testimony would not help the commission.

Atwill said the former governor had been advised by him there was no occasion for his appearance unless Marshall expected to show something material, then asked Marshall what he intended to show.

"DATA OF NO VALUE."
Marshall replied that Fuller had said last summer he had important data on the case.

"I thought that of sufficient importance to ask him to appear here," said Marshall.

Silverman said Fuller had written the City Council and that what he intended in the way of evidence amounted to nothing.

Marshall said the former governor had referred to the sliding scale and that he was in office about that time anyone else would have been in.

Atwill said "that is not enough to warrant his being summoned before the commission."
Atwill further said that, according to his recollection, it was said assistance had been given by Mr.
Barnum of the gas company to the legislative committee power and light that there would be no change in rate if the sliding scale were repealed.

"EX-GOVERNOR IN ERROR"

"As it now stands it appears Governor Fuller was under the impression that this department had not got assurance that the rates would not be changed," said Atwill.
"As it develops, however, it is Atwill said Fuller had based his original letter to the council on the assumption that the Public Utilities Department had advocated the sliding scale repeal.

As a matter of fact, he pointed out it was the commission's necessaries of life that made the recommendation to the legislature. He said the only connection his department had with the proceedings was to advise the governor as to whether he should sign or veto the bill.

MILDRAM TESTIFIES

Samuel W. Mildram, public utility expert, said he was convinced the company's surplus is lower at present than it should be, though it had increased to $637-000 in 1928 from a "very meagre" amount in 1921.

He said that in 1928 a large proportion of sales of gas to consumers was made at the highest rate charged than in any other year.
Since 1921, he declared, the company's total gas sales amounted to 86 per cent.

He said that if the company had maintained its $1.20 domestic rate, with proper allowance for a "step-up" in wholesale rates, things would have been all right.

Bishop Says Parents
Are Lax in Action

Parents "think a little too much and act too little," according to the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Slatery, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, who spoke at a meeting of the Episcopal Club of Massachusetts at the Gay-Palace Hotel.

At the "fathers and sons" night of the club the bishop said there should be an interchange of sympathy between fathers and sons to bring out the best in both.

Swallowed Sewing Needle

Mrs. Virginia Tocci

Antoinette Tocci, 14, may have to undergo a serious operation as a result of swallowing a needle during a sewing class session at the Newtonville junior high school.
The girl is shown with her mother, Mrs. Virginia Tocci.
X-rays have been taken to locate the needle. Antoinette says she can feel the needle, but that it is not very painful.

Fined $50 Even If He Wasn't Driving Cab

Edward A. Cameron, 22, of Everett st., Dorchester, wasn't driving his cab but he was fined $50, however, in municipal court today for operating while under the influence of liquor.

The friend who was driving
James A. Brennan, 28, of Jerome st., Dorchester, was also fined $50 of the same charge.
Cameron was also fined $25 for allowing Brennan to drive the cab when Brennan had no license in Washington at South End.

Jack Kellher Is Seriously Sick

Jack Kellher of Brookline, who played third base for the Boston Braves in the years after the war, is seriously ill at the Emerson

RULES OF THE ROAD

Many Are Studying the 81 Questions Asked by Examiners

Applications for automobile licenses were few and far between at Commonwealth Armory today due probably to the fact that would-be drivers are remaining away until they master the 81 questions of law to be propounded by their examiners.

Scores of applicants fell by the wayside yesterday and up to noon today only half of the scores were announced, entered with the O. K.
mark.

F. Dearborn, appointment clerk at the Armory, reported that a number of examinees failed to answer correctly simple questions on rules of the road.

On applicant was entirely ignorant of the meaning of colored lights, having he thought a red signal meant to go right ahead and a green signal to go ahead also only slower.

His solution to the question of lights at a street-car crossing was to allow another motorist to get in first and follow him around.

Beginning tomorrow all applicants must file their applications with the registrar at Commonwealth Pier, who will assign dates for examinations and send track.

Charge Man Stole
Students Coats

In the arrest of Raymond Broadus,
26, negro, of Broadway st., Dorchester, Sergeant Inspector John P. Neelan, of Haverhill College, Dorchester, Broadus was locked up at the Central station on two charges of larceny and one charge of absconding larceny of coats. Police claim that Broadus stole coats from a locker room in a Harvard University building on two occasions and made a similar career in a Tech building recently.

Three Men Seized
With Pint of Rum

In a raid on the property here of Summer st., East Boston, Special Officers LaCrosse, McGovern, Supt.
and Sullivan, arrested three East Boston men on charges of larceny of rum, and one charge of larceny of a pint of liquor. The men were one pint of liquor, will be a number of bottles and other equipment seized by the officers.

The three men gave the names of Patrick J. Flory of Concord, Mass., Thomas L. Murphy of Boston, and Charles H. Blake of Meriden, Conn., all of East Boston.

To Name Cars After Noted N. E. Senators

Consistent with the selection of the names "The Senator" for the Boston-Washington limited train of the New Haven Railroad, officials of the company have announced the six new cars in course of construction for the "Senator" will be named after New England members of the original Senate who ratified the Constitution of the United States.

They will be the "Caleb Strong,"
"John Langdon," the "Oliver Pittsford," the "Philip Schuyler," the "Dane Vaneleet" and the "Trenton." The two cars for the train will be named "Pilgrim" and "Plymouth Rock."

Scorn Historic Fire
Tab, but Change
Their Minds

"We don't want that thing."
This is what two officers of the Boston Historical Society said when the contractor at the demonstration job at the old Boston postoffice offered the Society the big tablet commemorating the great 1872 fire which was stopped by the "old stone fort."

Better take another look at it," urged Pinkus Newman, commissioner of the State House, who was at the demonstration.

"Oh, yes, sure we do want it," said the two officers. "We want study of the tablet."
After the blaze had burnt the out against the old building, 100 blocks of granite had to be expended.

LAST MINUTE CHRISTMAS PACKAGE RUSH UNDER WAY IN BOSTON

DEPARTURE TODAY ON N. Y. MAIL

Special Facilities at All Stations for Fast Handling

The great rush of Boston's last minute mail to Christmas packages is now being "fitted".

With today as the "deadline" for delivery of packages in New York and other cities, hundreds of the various parcel post stations are being put to work on the last few days of "guaranteed delivery" mail.

The South side branch was the busiest of all stations, with the main office at State st. and the one at Yonkers, N. Y. close second.

Special facilities have been installed at the State st. office for rapid handling of parcel post mail. Postal officials declare it is the best place to go for those who are in a hurry.

At Yonkers, the parcel post crew was doubled today to 43. Preparations were made for the heaviest crowd of work on Wednesday and Thursday.

Thursday is expected to be the second day for it is the final day for mailing New England parcels. Friday is the last day for Boston and vicinity.

Those having packages for New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia must mail them no later than tonight to insure delivery.

Those who are in their mailing will have to wait in air mail and special handling, and those who wish nothing will be delivered until after Christmas.

An example of the problem presented to the force was a man who wanted a package ordered it mailed for him. Asked why, he said:

"I don't want my cousin to get it before Christmas."

The clerk started to explain that the holding of a package addressed to New Jersey would mean delivery several days after the 25th.

The man said he didn't want any explanations and insisted the clerk hold it for a week.

GRIDIRON COACH TESTIFIES IN ATTACK CASE

Left N. H. Nurse in Car When 2 Men Got Rough With Him, Says Mitchell

John J. Mitchell, football coach of St. Anselm's preparatory school, Manchester, N. H., testifies in Middlesex court today, said he ran for help when two men began to get rough with him. He was a defendant in the trial of Chester E. Cummings of Lowell and Warren E. Tilton of Lynn, charged with attacking Mrs. Cora Roberts, Manchester nurse.

Mitchell denied he met the defendants in a Lowell speakeasy, saying he stopped on the road, while driving with Mrs. Roberts, to inquire the way to a battery station.

Tilton and Cummings, he said, entered the car to show them the way, but stopped on a lonely road. The three men got out and he overheard one say "Slug him," and then Tilton said, "I'll take care of him."

They started to get rough with him, Mitchell testified, and he ran for help, leaving Mrs. Roberts in the car.

Tilton, testifying in his own defense, admitted having improper relations with Mrs. Roberts, but denied attacking her.

Cummings testified that he and Tilton had been drinking since noon the previous day, and met Mitchell in a speakeasy.

Witness said they were introduced to Mrs. Roberts who was in the car, and all drank beer together. Cummings then procured two pints of liquor with money given him by Mitchell and they drove to a lonely road, where the men got out.

Cummings said he and Mitchell went into the car and Tilton drove it away without Mitchell. Witness and he protested but was knocked unconscious and came to wandering about in the woods.

Boston Bride

ROMANCE LEADS BOSTON GIRL TO ALTAR

Candida C. Blanco-Grandio to Be Bride of Jose Tejero on Next Sunday

The wedding, next Sunday, of Miss Candida, Carmine Blanco-Grandio of Naples, rd. to Jose Tejero, Boston shoe merchant, will celebrate a romance which began nearly two years ago when the girl came to this country.

Miss Blanco-Grandio is employed in the home of Mrs. Marie Solano, director of modern foreign languages on the Boston school committee.

The wedding will be solemnized at the Solano home, 116 Naples rd.

Truck Loaded With Christmas Gifts Is Burned

Santa Claus took a booting today when a truck loaded with $5000 worth of Christmas gifts, caught fire on Washington st., Charlestown, causing a loss estimated at $5500.

The fire department was called out and it required the efforts of patrolmen Connors, Stewart and De Rohm to keep 700 school children from rushing into danger to seize toys and other gifts.

The machine, the property of a delivery company, was operated by Charles Nolan of Ward st., Roxbury, with Cora Russell of Charlestown as a helper.

4 Cops in Long Search for Rum

It took four Quincy police officers two hours to find a small quantity of liquor at the home of Mrs. Diana Audette, 40, of Des Moines rd., Lieut. James H. Whelan, leader of the raiders, announced when he brought the evidence to headquarters.

The inquiry was found, the officers said, hidden between the sheets of a bed on which were piled a number of wraps of a number of who were visiting Mrs. Audette at the time.

HAPPY XMAS FOR VETERANS

A cheering story of what the Veterans of Foreign Wars are doing in Massachusetts to make Christmas enjoyable for ex-service men is in hospitals without compensation from the Government is told in a letter that Max Singer, Massachusetts department, vice president of the V. F. W., has sent to Congressional Leader Nourse.

The department of Massachusetts, he wrote, is regarded at the present time in arranging for the transportation of all non-commissioned veterans from the hospitals where they are able to travel.

"Where the veteran cannot travel, we have his nearest relative come to the hospital, the expenses in all cases being borne by the department and a little spending money given to the veteran." He said that the George F. Ryan Post 814 of Quincy had given $200 to the United States Veterans Bureau to be used in the hospital at Rutland.

"I mention these things to you," he said, "merely to show that the Veterans of Foreign Wars are not content with the erection of hospitals for veterans, but recognize the principles of a resolution adopted at the St. Paul conference of the V. F. W. last summer."

"We appreciate your work and your success attend your efforts wherever your desire for service may lead you," he concluded.

He has written to all New England congressmen and senators urging their efforts to secure a speedy passage of the Rogers bill.

"The musical background is supplied by Leo Zeeman and his orchestra of 20 men."

Prof. Newell Aids Centenary Plans
Prof. Lyman C. Newell, head of the chemistry department of Boston University, director of Lyman Arts, left Boston today for New York, where he has spent the last few preliminary papers, the council in charge of the Chicago Centenary of Progress in 1930.

As chairman of the committee for collecting industrial exhibits pertaining to chemistry, the B. U. professor will read a paper on this phase of the work.

Somerville Woman Refuses Alimony
Denying she wanted any money because she was perfectly capable of supporting herself, a woman of Somerville, Mrs. Marion W. Probate Court secured a divorce from Frank L. Perry on the ground of desertion.

Mrs. Perry, who testified she has been steadily employed for 22 years as a secretary, said she was willing to live with her husband for the rest of his life if he had supported himself. Even after his lawyer, she sent him money, she testified.

STILL MANS HAPPY IN NEW HOME WITHOUT STORK, SAYS 'BUD'

YOUNG BRIDE CAREFULLY GUARDED

Proud of Husband's Devotion to Studies to Become a Really Great Doctor

The report that the stork, as well as Santa Claus, was hovering over a new Brookline home of "Bud" Stillman and his Canadian bride, was denied today by a son of the New York banker. "We are very happy, indeed," said "Bud," "but there's nothing to the stork."

"Bud" is studying hard at Harvard, and his bride, who is a graduate of a large house and several "colleges," finds her greatest happiness in the knowledge that her husband will give his life to the alleviation of suffering humanity.

SAVED MAN'S LIFE.
"Bud" started on a career in the medical profession received its impetus in the Canadian woods according to a story told by friends. On their last visit to the Stillman summer home, where the son of the New York banker met the girl who is now his wife, "Bud" saved the life of a man who had been injured in the forest, giving him first aid and carrying him to a village.

"Everything's just fine," "Bud" said today. "We are going to spend Christmas down home with the folks."

He is very careful to guard his wife from unwarranted intrusion, which first gave rise to the report that James A. Stillman was to become a grandfather.

DOWN A MONTH RECENT.
There is considerable difference between the honeymoon of "Bud" and his bride, occupied on Totten St., Brookline, during his first term as Harvard, and the home in New York, in which they are now living.

There now pay $100 a month rent for eight rooms, three bathrooms and a garage. Interior decorations are the last word and there is a butler, a cook and a girl servant. One of the bedrooms is in pale green tile to match the color scheme of the master's bedroom to which it is attached.

The artistic touch of the youthful Mrs. Stillman is nowhere more apparent than in the living room with its wide, open fireplace, red damask hangings and mahogany upholstered furniture form the dominant note against neutral walls and rugs.

The dining room is very simply furnished in brown mahogany and maple green damask hangings. The reception hall is carpeted in plum colored wool.

"The world will look to my husband as one of its great benefactors," Mrs. Stillman declared. "I am so proud of him that I don't know how to say it."

According to her story, "Bud" rescued a poor crippled youth who was being chased and teased at by a crowd of boys and rehabilitated him with the psychoanalytic methods that reunited his own father and mother after years of bitter lawsuits.

Eminent brain specialists who know of Stillman's ambition frequently have him present at delicate or unusual operations as a nurse so that he may gain more knowledge on this subject. He never misses a single lecture at the medical school unless for such an experience.

ARGUMENTS IN BILLBOARD ROW OPEN

Four-Year Litigation Nears an End at Hearing Before Master Stewart

After four years of litigation during which voluminous testimony has been taken, arguments to continue four days were today started before Master Frank Stewart of the State House, in the proceedings brought by billboard interests against the State Department of Public Works.

The case started in 1925, after the formulation of restrictive regulations by the department in compliance with authority vested by the Legislature. Since the appointment of the master, a great many hearings have been held and numerous experts have testified.

Master Attorney James S. Eastman represents the State, and Attorney Louis J. Eastman represents the billboard people. Two days each was asked for by the attorneys for argument and granted by the master.

In opening, Eastman said the two important aspects of the case were first, whether billboards are a proper subject for regulation by the State under police power and second, whether the regulations promulgated are proper and just.

He contended that the petitioner will find it difficult to disprove the first in view of the decisions of the United States and Massachusetts Supreme courts. Taking up the second phase, Eastman made reference to testimony of witnesses and the contention of the State that billboards are detrimental to public health, public safety, public morals and welfare.

Finney Resigns Brookline Post

The board of election of Brookline accepted the resignation of Prince A. Finney as agent for indigent soldiers and marines in Brookline, and who had charge of the graves of Civil, Spanish and World War soldiers. Finney, who is one of the surviving members of the C. L. Chandler Post, G. A. R., had held that position for many years, but owing to ill health he felt he was not able to continue.

Woman, 75, Married 33 Years, Divorced

Mrs. John G. Vickery, 75, of Plympton, was granted a divorce in Superior court at Brockton from John Vickery, 78, to whom she had been married 33 years. Mrs. Vickery alleged that her husband had beaten her and at one time threatened her life. The libel was uncontroverted. Their 12-year-old granddaughter testified for Mrs. Vickery.

U. S. Agents Say No Bogus Money Passers Are in Locality

If you get a $100 bill in your mail change while doing Christmas shopping this season, don't be alarmed as to counterfeits.

This is the advice of the Secret Service division here, which today said that Boston and New England are apparently very free from bogus bills at this time.

The occasion for the comment was a question asked regarding the report that the New York spurious $100 bills had reached here. Not one has been uncovered in New England although banks in New York are receiving three and four a day.

The bogus currency notes are nearly perfect, and can be detected only by experts using identifying glasses.

Thief Snips String of Cashier's Bag

Working in a crowd of shoppers, a sneak thief today snatched a $100 bill from the cashier's bag of Emerson Co. Temple st., in an elevator of the store building.

Miss McFerrin was making the rounds of the cash registers when the string of the cash bag was cut.

The bag contained only $25.

Mounting of Super-Dynamic Speaker Assures Clear Tone

The loudspeaker is one of the most important units in the transformation and reproduction of audible sound. In fact, it is most important, because even though reception and amplification by the power unit be absolutely perfect, all can be lost if the reproducing unit isn't equally efficient in performance. The secret of the marvelous reproducing qualities of the super-dynamic speaker built into Brunswick instruments lies in its flexible mounting. This assures a vibrationless tone of great fidelity.

five other reasons why customers are selecting Brunswick

1. Transformers and tuning coils are built with great precision. 2. Brunswick electrical pickup faithfully reproduces all records. 3. Every part of the chassis is delicately attuned. 4. Easy to operate; has illuminated dial. 5. Careful cabinet dowling prevents warping.

French frying—simplified!

and a secret of better taste

1 All you need is an ordinary saucepan, a strainer and a 5-lb. can of Crisco. Put Crisco into a cold saucepan and heat slowly. Test with a small cube of bread to determine when Crisco is hot enough for frying. For previously cooked foods (croquettes, fish-balls, etc.) bread should brown in 40 seconds. For uncooked foods (fritters, oysters, etc.) in 60 seconds. For raw potatoes, (chips, French-fried), in 80 seconds.

2 Don't strain for Crisco to smoke. Fill your strainer half full of the food and lower it into the Crisco. Increase the heat, so the cold food naturally cooks the Crisco a little.

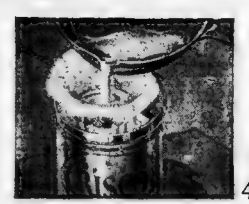

3 When the food is brown and well done, lift strainer out of the fat, shake lightly, drain the food on absorbent paper.

4 Now strain Crisco into an empty can, through cheesecloth or a fine sieve, and set aside to cool. You can use Crisco over and over for anything you want to fry. The taste of one thing will not be carried to another.

WHEN you come to think of it, should you ever fry in a fat you are unwilling to taste?

You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

CRISCO was used in the Cooking School recently conducted by this paper

Mrs. Lilla Pauline Cross, of the American Cooking School, stressed the importance of modern cooking methods and modern ingredients. Naturally, then, she uses and recommends Crisco.

Crisco is a registered trademark of the American Cooking School, Inc.

which under redness is a symptom and broken veins are often visible. This condition may last only a few weeks or it may go on for years. The only safe remedy is to consult your physician and get his advice.

Indigestion, due to too great use of highly-seasoned foods, tea, coffee or alcoholic drinks may often be relieved by the use of Colman's Mustard. It will not only remove the cause, but it will also remove the effects, by improving the circulation.

Many of the most common varieties of red nose, often met with in the case of women, are caused by the constant use of or possibly the constant friction of the powder-pud stimulates the oil glands.

A safer procedure is to omit the use of powder, and to use, instead, an astringent. Colman's Mustard, which makes an excellent powder-base as well as an astringent.

Distilled water 50 grains, rose water 50 grains, zinc 3 grains, sulphate of potassium 3 grains.

Apply this tonic after cleansing your face at night, first with warm water, and then with Colman's Mustard. It is dry on the morning.

POPULAR DEB MAKES BOW TONIGHT

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT debuts of the season is that of Miss Ann Brooke Frothingham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Langdon Frothingham. It takes the form of a ball at the Hotel Somerset this evening. Miss Eugenia Brooks Frothingham of Marlborough st. and Dr. and Mrs. Frothingham are together presenting this charming debutante, who is to be frocked in an exquisite eggshell satin, fashioned along simple lines, tied at the waist and the long, short edged with gold net. Miss Frothingham is to be escorted by a French model, crimson in color, while Mrs. Frothingham is wearing a dress, green in type, at blue calico with spangled bodice.

THE CHOICE IN FROCKS OF Miss Eugenia Frothingham, another daughter of the family, who made her bow at a dance three years ago, is a long and full green satin, trimmed in back with flowers in shades of green and yellow. A married sister, Mrs. William Winton Dunsell, Jr. (Ellen Frothingham) of Finckney, is to be attired in a purple satin. The only member of the immediate family who will not be in attendance is Mrs. Robert Eckert, Jr. (Olga Frothingham), the eldest of Mrs. Frothingham's daughters, who, since her marriage, has been making her home in Freeport, Ill.

WILLIAM W. DUNNELL, JR. is to direct the music, including Mason Ham and Louis Root, John Mulford, Henry Warner, Ewart Greene, Lindsay Ware, Gilbert Payson, Edward Fay, Edward Orlandini, David Cheever, Merrill Griswold, Philip Aspinwall, Dr. Richard Dwight, George Lombard, Fredrick Roberts, Dwight Sturges, Richard Nichols, Francis Hammond, Gardner Emmons and Howland Francis, all of Boston; also Robert Bailey of Philadelphia.

Miss Barbara Proctor, a popular bud and Junior League member, is sailing for Europe to attend school in Rome.

Miss Charlotte Bullard to Become Bride of George Donald Wood on Christmas Eve; Pre-Nuptial Dance Saturday

Brookline, during their recent studies.

THE USHERS' DINNER IN also taking place at the Somerset. Another dinner to precede this dance is the one Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brewster Dumas are giving at their home on Beacon st., together with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holton, also of Beacon st., for their respective debutante daughters, Miss Marian L. Dumas and Miss Holton Holton. Miss Holton is wearing a lovely gown of garnet moire. Others who are also entertaining at dinner and are taking their guests on to the Somerset dance are Mrs. Charles P. Curtis and Miss Margaret Bent.

CHRISTMAS EVE IS THE romantic hour chosen by Miss Charlotte Bullard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irving Bullard of the Hotel Somerset and Edgartown, for her marriage to George Donald Wood of Molins, Ill. The ceremony and the reception are both to take place at the Algonquin Club. As a pre-nuptial party her parents are giving a dinner-dance at the Somerset this Saturday. The engagement was announced on September 21.

THE ADVENT OF THE Christmas holidays marks a general exodus from Boston, with the exception of a few college girls who on the contrary bring friends home for the vacation. Miss Marian Upton, with her mother, Mrs. George Upton, her sister and one of her brothers are going to Woodstock, Vt. for the period, while her father and the other members of her family are going to their place in Virginia. Just after Christmas, Miss Alice Dalton is going to Quebec. Miss Marjorie Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuller of Lancaster, whose engagement to David S. M. Lister was announced this fall, is to visit his parents in Elmira, during the Yuletide season. Miss Nancy Jayne of Hartford and Marblehead Neck is visiting her Vassar classmate, Miss Louise Spears of

Brookline, during their recent studies.

GEN. JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS of the British army and noted statesman of South Africa, is coming to Symphony Hall Jan. 4, when he will speak on the League of Nations. Twenty or more Junior League girls are to usher at this lecture.

MISS ABBY BEVERIDGE, daughter of the late noted senator, has recently arrived from Beverly and is staying in town at the Ritz-Carlton, and Miss Florence Lindsay has come up from Danvers and is also there. Other recent arrivals at the hotel include Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller of Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. William McDonald of Marion, Mass.; and Mrs. M. D. Gifford of New Bedford. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stoddard of Cohasset, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Simmons of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kaffenburgh, having returned from a honeymoon of extensive traveling, have taken an apartment at the Ritz-Carlton for the winter. Mrs. Kaffenburgh was before her marriage on October 12 Miss Betty Lang Ralabesky. Her mother, Mrs. T. S. Ralabesky, has, as previously announced, an apartment there also. Others with suites in this conveniently situated hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hubbard (Betty Moulton), Miss Anna Crosby and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Falvey.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. PIERPONT (Mary Adelaide Scott) are visiting the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Mitchell of Brattle St., Cambridge, where they are to be until Thursday.

IN HONOR OF MISS ELIZABETH S. BOARDMAN, New York debutante and daughter of Mrs. Anita Cate Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Morse of Commonwealth ave., are giving a dinner tonight. The guests will afterward accompany their hosts to "Wings Over Europe," the second of the Theater Guild productions at the Hollis Street Theater. As on Tuesday two weeks ago it is for the benefit of the Free Hospital for Women.

New Afternoon Frock Proves It Is Very Versatile

REGISTERING formality in line and fabric and infusing in use is the versatile trick played by the new afternoon frock wherever it appears. There is a subtlety to the design of afternoon frocks, imbuing them with a dignified formality which is suitable for informal evening occasions and at the same time presents their being too elaborate for the matinee, tea and bridges of the average smart woman's day.

Frocks with these characteristics are shown here. They employ elegance of fabric with a new suavity of line and detail. The sports dress no longer has the privilege of appearing for both morning and afternoon functions. There is a definite line drawn and unless you comply, you will feel just a bit out of things.

AND can you resist complying? How charming and flattering are the lines of a flat crepe frock sketched here! The normal waistline is cleverly emphasized and the moderately long skirt is achieved with delightful irregularity.

Beside this frock stands one equally as fascinating. It combines lame and satin. A long tunic blouse is fashioned of the same while a flared underskirt uses black satin. Notice how the lined flare is worked out with the tunic and the skirt.

is given a net frock by Goups. The frock, made in a heavy fish net of almost lacy weaver, is quite tailored in treatment. The skirt hangs unevenly and ruffles appear at the sleeves. A narrow

STOCK PRICES HIGHER IN AFTERNOON

By STANLEY W. FRENCH
New York, Dec. 17 (AP)—The stock market finally turned upward today, after drifting about uncertainly during an extremely dull forenoon, with sales during the forenoon hours of trading totaling less than a million shares.

Operators for the advance were encouraged by the comparative stability of the market during the morning, and actively picked up considerably during the early afternoon, an several leading shares were bid up from 2 to more than 6 points.

STILL DRIES UP
The rapid drying up of the selling movement, which depressed prices sharply yesterday, was particularly pleasing to a bull element.

The volume of $71,000,000 in security loans by weekly reporting companies, as reported by the Federal Reserve, was particularly encouraging, as it occurred when brokers loaned increased $33,000,000.

Also, a downturn in foreign exchange rates was viewed as a reflection, indicating at least a movement of gold. It was reported from Washington that the Treasury and reserve bank were unconcerned over the gold movement.

LEADERS ADVANCE
The firmness of call money is prominently the per cent. today for the government's offering of treasury bills, large.

Corporation news was, too, reflected in dividend announcements by smaller concerns. Crummett, however, announced a dividend of 10 cents per share, and Newmont Mining, a stock dividend of 10 cents per share.

U. S. Steel and Republic Steel rose about 4 points each. Western Union, after a per cent. advance, gave up 1/2 point. American Telephone and Telegraph, after a per cent. advance, gave up 1/2 point.

New York Bond Market

FIND BUSINESS BETTER THAN YEAR AGO

Washington, Dec. 17.—Finance and publishers of the trade journals of the New American business have reported that business is better than in previous years at this time.

The editors reporting themselves the most and most authoritative source of information, have reported that business is better than in previous years at this time.

BOND BUYING MODERATE

By JOHN L. COOLEY
New York, Dec. 17 (AP).—Investment funds poured into the bond market today in small volume.

The market was characterized by moderate buying, with fluctuations in numerous issues, especially in the industrial sector, which was particularly active. Low priced issues in this group were the most active, but some of the better grade issues were likewise affected.

Part of the activity resulted in purchases made at the high price of early in the year, in view of the expected decline in the price of the remainder of the year.

Inquiry for investment funds would a point of view, there were made in Canadian Pacific, U. S. Steel, and New York Central.

The Eastern industrial market was reflected in a point down by the New York Central, which was Car 50 about the same figure, while Hamilton Car 50, which was a decline approximately 10 points.

At meetings of the board of directors of the various B. M. T. companies, Texas N. Y. Water was signed as vice-president of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corp. and the New York Rapid Transit Corp. and will continue as director and act hereafter as special counsel.

Earnings Large
Market Street Railway for 12 months ended Nov. 30 reports net ordinary income, but before depreciation, interest and federal income tax, of $1,800,000, or 150.701 in the previous 12 months.
